IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK A LOT LIKE CHRISTMAS IN HANCOCK COUNTY

The Christmas season has officially begun in Hancock County, and Santa Claus is coming to town — starting Thursday in Diamondhead for the annual Christmas on the Green celebration — and returning to Bay St. Louis next week for the re-scheduled Christmas in the Bay Parade.

“Diamondhead is ready to celebrate Christmas starting this Thursday with our annual Christmas on the Town Green,” Diamondhead Mayor Nancy Depreo said. “Santa and Mrs. Claus will be arriving shortly after 5:30 p.m. and will be available for photos. We will have face painting, train rides for the children and plenty of Christmas treats.”

Beginning on Friday, Dec. 2, Depreo said, “Santa’s mailbox will be available at the Club near the walking trail. You can drop your letter of to Santa until Dec. 17.”

Santa will be back in the Bay next Friday, Dec. 9.

“The Christmas in the Bay parade has been rescheduled!” Bay St. Louis City Clerk Michael Reso said Monday.

Amtrak is (almost) back on the MS Gulf Coast

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The long-awaited plan to restore passenger rail service to the Mississippi Gulf Coast — with daily stops in Bay St. Louis — is apparently back on track after an agreement between CSX, Amtrak and the Alabama State Port Authority.

“We’re definitely excited about it, because it’s a big step,” Southern Rail Commission member and Bay-resident Kay Kell said Monday. “We’ve been working on this for a long time.”

The plan was first announced in early 2016, when then-Gov. Phil Bryant, Sen. Roger Wicker, SRC members and a host of state and federal officials traveled along the Coast in an Amtrak train, promising to begin an effort to restore passenger rail service to the Coast for the first time since Hurricane Katrina.

However, plans have been in abeyance while the National Surface Transportation Board moderated the dispute between Amtrak, CSX and the state of Alabama.

“There is an agreement, but we’re not allowed to talk about it yet,” Kell said. “Now everybody has to follow through on what they said they would do. I can’t say it’s the last step, but it’s definitely a good, necessary step.”

This past August, officials broke ground on a new A.D.A.-compliant train platform at the historic Bay St. Louis Depot.

Feathers fly during 11th annual Turkey Trot

About 400 participants gathered on Thanksgiving morning for the 11th annual Fit First Turkey Trot in downtown Bay St. Louis, sponsored by Bay St. Louis Running Co.

SEA COAST ECHO

About 400 people woke up early on Thanksgiving morning to get a little cardio in before their feasts during the 11th annual Fit First Turkey Trot in downtown Bay St. Louis.

“Our hearts grew three sizes today —,” Bay St. Louis Running Co. event organizers said on social media on Thursday, “in addition to supporting Friends of the Animal Shelter in Hancock County we also were able to donate non-perishable food items to Ruth’s Roots and the leftover gumbo, rice, bread, and fruit to the community Thanksgiving dinner.

“Thanks and Giving go together, what better way to say thanks than by giving back our lovable furry friends that are in need from our local community?”

Fit First has already scheduled the 12th annual Turkey Trot. It’s set for Nov. 23, 2023, and will once again benefit the Friends of the Animal Shelter in Hancock County.

The race begins at 8 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis Depot, travels through Old Town to Beach Boulevard, before returning to the Depot.

Hundreds crowd into BSL Hall for 37th annual free Thanksgiving dinner

Friends and families gathered in homes and halls all over the country last week for Thanksgiving feasts, and around 700 pulled up chairs at the Bay St. Louis Community Hall Thursday for the 37th annual Free Thanksgiving Dinner hosted by the Kelly Family.

Julie Massengill spearheaded this year’s event.

Sally Kelly, the matriarch of the clan, started the tradition 37 years ago at the family’s C’s Restaurant, which has since closed.

“We’ve been doing this for (over three decades),” Nancy Bosarge -- one of the “Kelly Girls” -- said in 2019. “We’re so grateful that we can share it with all the wonderful people in the community..

“We get blessed back so much in so many ways that I think we get more benefit out of it than they do.

A lot of time, effort and money go into the feast each year, she said, with 40-50 volunteers helping prepare and serve the meals and several local businesses kicking in some of the food.

Up until 2019, the Kellys hosted the event at American Legion Post 139 in Bay St. Louis, but the legion has leased the building, prompting the move to the OLG Center at 228 S. Beach Blvd. in the Bay for 2020 and 2021.

Silver Bells for Seniors

The Pearlinton Public Library and Southern Care/Gentiva hospice are hosting a Christmas gift program for Pearlington/Coast area seniors and veterans.

“Southern Care/Gentiva hospice has sponsored the gift program in the Picayune area for the last three years, but this is the first time we have included Pearlington/Coast area seniors and veterans, Rebecca Silvia of Southern Care said in a press release. “The Pearlinton Public Library is hosting a tree for the first time and we are hoping to provide nearly 40 Pearlinton/Coast area seniors and veterans a Christmas gift who may otherwise be forgotten this year.

“The public library is a hub for the community and we are so hopeful this program will have the same success as it has in Picayune.”

In order to participate, you can visit the Pearlington Public Library and select a gift request/name tag from the tree; then purchase a modest gift indicated on the back of the tag. You can return to the unwrapped gift with the tage to the Pearlinton Public Library by Dec. 12, where it will be wrapped and delivered.

Volunteers are welcome to help wrap gifts, deliver gifts or donate toiletry items, socks and small fleece blankets.

“This is the first of many steps, we hope,” Bay St. Louis Mayor Mike Favre said at the time. “It’s going to be a great thing, not only for Bay St. Louis, but (for communities) all the way from New Orleans to Mobile.”

The project is “a wonderful example of the partnership” between federal, state and local officials and citizens, U.S. Deputy Secretary of Transportation Polly Trottenberg said. “The local voices here have been really crucial” to the effort.

Once the service is operational, SRC Chairman Knox Ross said in August, there will also be stops in Gulfport, Biloxi and Pascagoula.

Ross said the service would be a huge boon for Bay St. Louis, bringing two trains a day in from New Orleans, and two trains a day in from Mobile.

Hancock County Libraries to Present 28th Annual Holiday Tree Gala

SEA COAST ECHO

When the five branches of the Hancock County Library System open their doors in December, “A Storybook Holiday” will welcome library patrons for a month-long seasonal celebration. According to HCLS executive director John Brdecka, this December’s event marks the 28th year for the library’s popular Holiday Tree Gala, the longest running event of its kind in Mississippi. “This is a highlight of our year,” said Brdecka, “and is truly a partnership effort of the HCLS and its library foundation.”

Opening Saturday, December 3, 2022, the Holiday Tree Gala is a community-wide event which invites participating businesses and other organizations to create a holiday tree inspired by and decorated to reflect a theme chosen annually by the Hancock County Library Foundation which provides support for various library programs. The Holiday Tree Gala is open to all businesses and organizations in Hancock County.

“Last year, due to the lingering pandemic, as well as to support our interest in increasing participation by the communities and businesses throughout Hancock County, we extended our reach beyond the Bay St. Louis Library to include our Diamondhead, Kiln, Pearlinton, and Waveland branches,” Brdecka added. “Our approach to decentralize and branch out to all branches was a big success. The library realized an increase in the total number of sponsored holiday trees, plus an overall increase in public attendance.” During December 2021 more than 10,000 people visited the five branches which make up the Hancock County Library System.

Prior to the 2021 event, the Library Foundation of Hancock County had limited its tree gala to just the Bay St. Louis library branch location. Last year’s event saw 110 area businesses and organizations displaying custom designed holiday trees at the tree gala.

Businesses and organizations interested in participating this year should contact their local library now to reserve a space. Exhibitors will be accepted on a first come, first served basis. Interested persons, organizations, and businesses are urged to act quickly as spaces for trees are limited. The deadline for tree registration has been extended to Thursday, November 17, with trees to be installed the week of November 28, 2022..

This year trees will be judged by categories with a variety of awards, such as Best of Show and a People’s Choice award. With the theme of, “A Storybook Holiday,” judges for December’s event will include notable area authors Johnnie Bernhard (MS), Carolyn Haines (AL), and Julie Smith (MS).

In addition to what’s expected to be more than 120 decked-out holiday trees during December the libraries are conducting a Holiday Scavenger Hunt designed especially for its youngest patrons. Children will search for the hidden ornament at each of the five HCLS branches with a lottery drawing for prizes at the end of the month.

The event attendance is open to the public and is free of charge. For additional information or to sign up to enter “A Storybook Holiday” as a tree exhibitor in the holiday gala, contact any of the five HCLS library branch locations, or call 228-467-5282.

Hancock County Bar Association hosts food drive for King’s Kitchen

The Hancock County Bar Association recently hosted a food drive to collect funds and non-perishables for The Kings Kitchen, a Bay St. Louis non-profit organization that has been serving free meals to those in need for years. Pastor Mike Ramsey (center) said he was grateful to receive the boxes of food and approximately $2100, and that contributions like this are what help the kitchen keep serving local needs. Local attorneys Brehm Bell (left) and David Baria (right) represented the Hancock County Bar Association and delivered the collections this week. Contributions came from local attorneys and staff, as well as community members who supported the food drive. The Kings Kitchen is located on Longfellow Drive in Bay St. Louis and is currently serving lunch three times a week.

Time loops

This past Saturday boasted the weather I love. It was chilly, gloomy, rainy and provided the perfect backdrop for a day spent at home curled up with my cats, a cozy blanket, too many cups of coffee and tea, and a new psychological thriller series.

After reading some reviews of Netflix’s newest show, “1899,” I decided to check it out.

Many reviewers cited confusion about the events in the show, while others praised the writers for their ingenuity.

It was created by German film and television director and screenwriter Baran bo Odar and his partner, Jantje Friese, the same brilliant minds that created the series “Dark.”

I adore a good mind-bending series and if you do too, I highly recommend “Dark.”

As I’m writing this, I have one episode of “1899” left to watch and I have really enjoyed it.

It’s a historical drama about immigrants traveling on a steamship from London to New York who encounter some mysterious and unexplained events.

When the mysteries really started to unfold, I was reminded once again, that I never ever want to be on a ship of any kind.

I’ve always thought of them as Petri dishes for as long as I can remember and I just don’t want to be stuck out on the open sea with a bunch of strangers and their screaming children with no escape in sight.

However, in the year 1899, traveling by steamship was one of the main methods of travel.

What I’ve noticed about these writers is that they have a penchant for exploring time as it relates to the mind, be it time travel like in “Dark” or a time loop in “1899.”

According to the Cambridge Dictionary, a time loop is a “situation in which a period of time is repeated, sometimes several times, so that the characters have to live through a series of events again.”

It is one of the elements that can make it more difficult for viewers to understand what’s going on. When I watched “Dark,” for instance, I jotted down some notes to help me keep up with the goings-on of the characters.

Yes, I do get that invested, but I also look at it like I’m building upon my critical thinking skills.

As you watch “1899,” they reveal pertinent information about what is going on in each episode. While you are watching a certain contained episode,

Hancock History: Wildcat Oil Wells

In 1901, there was a big discovery of oil called the Spindle Top Gusher in Beaumont, Texas. Consequently, an era of oil-drilling was born. Here in Hancock County, W.H. Bouslog determined that a site in Clermont City was a likely source of oil because the land had the same physical characteristics as the land in Beaumont. A “wildcat well” is the name for an oil well drilled at a site where there is no geological information to predict oil, but the decision to drill is based purely on speculation, inspired because the suggested terrain looks similar to a known productive oil well elsewhere. Bouslog created the Mississippi Land and Abstract Company, and a drilling spot was chosen not far from the L & N railroad depot in Clermont City. It took five months to drill to a depth of 1800 feet. A second oil well in Clermont City was started in 1904. Both wells were eventually abandoned, and no oil was ever successfully or profitably found in Hancock County.

Wilford Guerin’s son, Russell Guerin (1932-2022) was born at the old Mercy Hospital in New Orleans. He lived in the 9th Ward in New Orleans in early childhood, but the family moved to Gallier Street during the Depression. Russell attended Holy Cross High School and then went to Loyola University in New Orleans from which he earned a Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education, graduating cum laude. The Guerin Family had a camp in Clermont Harbor, and Russell had many cherished memories of those summers. After college, Russell enlisted in the Army and was made a cryptanalyst with the Army’s Security Service. In 1956, he started working for the New York Life Insurance Company. He married Merle Higgins (b. 1937), and they had four daughters: Nicole, Michele, Madeleine, and Mignon. Russell and Merle were divorced after twenty years of marriage.

Russell retired after forty years in 1994 and moved to Clermont Harbor. He bought a house with two acres on Second Street next to the harbor. He also kept an apartment in New Orleans. It was in this time frame that he met Charles Gray and joined the Hancock County Historical Society. After Katrina destroyed Russell’s house in 2005, he had an apartment in the Bay.

In the last few years, Russell lived in New Orleans. His father was Wilfred Louis Guerin (1900-1960) and his mother was Carmela Cali. Wilfred’s ancestors came from the Loire Valley in France, and Camila had ancestry from Sicily. Wilfred sold automobiles and real estate such as the aforementioned Harbor Hotel. Their first house in Clermont Harbor was on Forrest Street, named after the famous Confederate Civil War general, Nathan Bedford Forrest. Russell’s paternal grandparents were Merinville Guerin and Emil Bezou Olivier. Bezou is an old proud New Orleans French name.

street from each other on Clermont Blvd. One was the Garcia Grocery Store, and the other was Ladner Grocery Store. Harold and Lillian’s Bar is still in business. The Clermont Harbor Community Pier was the place where all the residents of Clermont Harbor could and did gather.

Russell was a truly educated man and he possessed a wealth of knowledge in literature, local history, opera, and classical music. Russell passed away on August 12, 2002 at the age of ninety. In our next column the published history and research of Russell Guerin will be presented.

Life in the Bay- A Reflection of Bay St. Louis

It is November 1973 and my parents decided that we would spend Thanksgiving in the Bay. This was a rare event as once we went back to the city (New Orleans) on Labor Day it was usually Easter before we returned. The day was crisp and cool when arrived and the lack of humidity and coolness at night were a pleasant change from the sweltering days and nights of August.

The breeze had been blowing from the north, so we had one of those exceptionally low tides that uncovered all the mysteries of the bay bottom that were unseen during the summer. Walking on the rippled bay bottom to the end of the pier with dry feet was a wonderful and curious feeling. Wonderful to see such a change in tides and a curiosity as to the cause of such extreme tides.

The long weekend was consumed with fall adventures, visiting with cousins, Bay friends and a trip to Winn Dixie with a shopping list.

there are moments where the pieces to the larger puzzle are given.
As I do, I take some of the larger themes of the shows and compare it to real life scenarios.
And sometimes, life can feel like a time loop, when as much as we want or absolutely need something to change, it does not, no matter what you do or say. So the same horrific string of events keep playing out over and over again.
Albert Einstein is credited as saying, “Insanity is doing the same thing over and over and expecting different results.”
Being stuck in a time loop sounds like it would be excruciating, as does being in situations where you are powerless to break the cycle yourself.
And maybe the cycle has to be broken by someone else who is stuck in the same time loop, which is very, very frustrating.

Yes, it can get very confusing when trying to decipher all this, but maybe we can learn something from time loops, like how to find the courage and building societal programs to break free from cycles of abuse, trauma, and hostility.
I don’t want to give away spoilers about “1899,” but there is one character that I find myself relating to a lot.
Side note: Since my little nephew lives in Alaska and is three hours behind us, he was watching the Thanksgiving Day parade after we did.
I was on the phone with him and my dad asked me to ask him if he had seen the Minion balloon yet.
My nephew’s response was, “Thanks for the spoiler, Cass Cass.”
End of side note.

The character in the show is constantly trying to get some of the characters to do things that will help them, but they won’t listen to him.
It’s a lot like the Cassandra (insert shoutout to my dad for the great name choice) from Greek mythology who prophesied events, but no one believed her very real predictions, because the god Apollo cursed her.
Cassandra, as defined by dictionary.com, means “a person who prophesies doom or disaster. A female given name: from a Greek word meaning “helper of men.”
I like to either shout at the T.V. or converse with my cats about how I think the characters should be listening to this guy. But, they never do or, like in real life, are too scared to make the necessary changes to break the loop.
And believe me,

I’ve never much liked change, but in order to continue to grow, change is necessary.
I mean, look at the figures through the years who have fought for civil rights, women’s rights, etc. People who were unafraid to try and break the time loop of hatred, bigotry, etc. Things might look very different had it not been for their courageous acts.
But there is still work to be done because that hatred is still alive and well in 2022.
Let’s work on breaking these vicious time loops, trying different approaches to things, caring about one another, and encourage —not shame or disparage — people who continuously fight to educate and advocate for real and meaningful change.

Advent

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

We have now entered the liturgical season of Advent. It is significant in at least two ways. First of all, it marks the beginning of a new year in the liturgy of the Christian church. The first Sunday of Advent, which was last Sunday, is the beginning of a new year of scriptural emphasis and spiritual insight. Throughout the course of the year people in worship will be guided by specific texts from the Hebrew Scriptures (Old Testament), Psalms, Christian Scriptures (New Testament), and a selection from the Gospels.

In addition to the scriptural and liturgical emphasis, the season of Advent ushers into the church the journey toward the birth of Jesus, the season of Christmas, and the celebration of his ministry in the history of the world.

There are numerous ways to observe this season. One of the most prominent is the recognition of the need for preparation.

The Christian church is more than just a way to live. It is also a recognition of the importance of continuing preparedness for the journey of faith.

Advent is NOT Christmas. While commercial influence leads us to much cultural misunderstanding of the season, Christmas begins on December 25 not on the Friday after Thanksgiving.

Some goals for the observance of Advent are as follows:

*It should help us to remember the Judeo-Christian stories and traditions. They have given us the spiritual insight and wisdom which have guided us through the ages. It serves to remind us that we stand upon the shoulders of the Hebrew tradition, and that the Christian faith will forever be connected to that journey. Rather than looking upon Jewishness as an opposite of the Christian faith it would be more accurate to see it as a great blessing and forerunner to who we are becoming.

*A second goal is to use the season of Advent to prepare ourselves in a spiritual sense for the profound remembrance of the coming of Jesus Christ into the world. There are many ways to interpret this experience and to incorporate it into the way we live our lives. Among the most important must be the influence of the teachings about love, grace, forgiveness. and hope. Whether one has a literal view of the events surrounding the birth of Jesus, or swings under a more symbolic and liberal banner, the truth to be found in the teachings is crucial.

And so, we begin. It is a beginning which has been repeated across the generations and centuries. It is a powerful time of introspection and potential growth. May it lead us to renewed wisdom and strengthened faith.

How to Apply

To apply for 2023 Seal grants, teachers submit full project proposals by the January 13, 2022, deadline, detailing how their projects can enhance students’ educational experiences while supporting state curriculum. This year’s application process offers a more streamlined timeline to help expedite selection of grant recipients and funding to activate winning projects.
“In the past, teachers submitted letters of intent before knowing whether they were selected to provide full project proposals,” said GCCF President and Executive Director Christen H. Duhé. “This year, applicants simply submit their full, detailed project proposal for consideration, which reduces the time necessary to evaluate proposals and select grant winners.”

GCCF coordinates selection of grant recipients by an independent committee of business, community, and educational representatives not affiliated with Hancock Whitney.
More about the Seal Grants
Hancock Whitney established the Seal grant program in 1994 as a permanent endowment of the GCCF Pat Santucci Friends of Public Education program. First presented in 1996, the awards pay tribute to the community commitment and leadership of Leo W. Seal, Sr., the bank’s president from 1932 until his death in 1963, and his son, the late Leo W. Seal, Jr., the bank’s chief executive for 45 years. Throughout their lives, both men championed countless economic and educational opportunities across the Gulf Coast.

MEET SANDLOT.

This handsome fellow was discovered by a Good Samaritan after being abandoned on a dead end road with his food bowl. In spite of his callous treatment, this 2 year old Great Pyrenees mix is super friendly and very chill. We're not sure how Sandlot is with children or cats, but he is friendly and non reactive with the other dogs in his living area. He enjoys the company of our staff and volunteers, and looks forward to going for walks. He would be a terrific companion for a person, couple or family seeking an easy going dog to be part of their lives and to join in adventures. If you are interested in adopting Sandlot, come by the Hancock County Animal Shelter for a meet and greet during our visiting hours, Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm or Tues 1pm-3:30pm. Please bring your kids and dog(s) to ensure compatibility. Or, call our front desk at 228-466-4516 for more information or to schedule an appointment.

DWGAN GOLFING NEWS FROM OCTOBER OF 2022

BY SHIRLEY HALTERMAN

First of all, thanks to the staff at Sea Coast Echo for adding the pic of Kim and Dinah to the September article. I really appreciate it.

The month began with our Annual Club Championship competition. Twenty-eight of our members turned out to play in this event. We divided the group into three flights: Championship (anyone playing from the red tees), Seniors (age 74 & under playing from the red tees) and Super Seniors (age 75 and over playing from the blended tees). Cash awards were given to 1st & 2nd Place winners in each flight while the winner with the best score was declared the Club Champion. This year that honor went to Liz Bell. Loss Gross winners were: Championship Flight = 1st Place, Liz Bell and 2nd Place, Margie James; Senior Flight = 1st Place, Kim Knight and 2nd Place, Audrey Ramirez; and Super Senior Flight = 1st Place, Betty Perry and 2nd Place, Toni Rossol. In the Low Putt portion of this competition Judy Tauzin took 1st Place in the Championship Flight, while Nancy Sislow took it in the Senior Flight and Toni Rossol in the Super Senior Flight. Closest-to-the Pin honors were as follows: Championship Flight = Liz Bell, Senior Flight = Cheryl Saak and Super Seniors = Sue Hebert. Not to overlook Chip-Ins and Birdies, Marilyn Galus scored a Chip-In on Hole #16 while Kim Knight had one on #12. Liz Bell scored a Birdie on Hole #17.

Our monthly Trophy Day was moved to the second Tuesday of the month due to the Club Championship competition. This month scores were based on Low Gross scores, and we played the front of the Pine Course. In Flight 1 - 1st Place went to Georgeann Luxion, 2nd Place to Liz Bell and 3rd Place to Ann Nutting. In Flight 2 - 1st Place was taken by Toni Rossol, 2nd Place by Janice Murray and 3rd Place by Cathy Gesell. For Flight 3 - Margaret Sherwood took 1st Place, Beryl Laird took 2nd Place and Kathy Jones took 3rd Place in a scorecard playoff. Last, but certainly not least, in Flight 4 - 1st Place went to Kim Knight, 2nd Place to Marsha Roberts and 3rd Place to Jerry Ingraham. When it came to Lowest Putts, Betty Perry garnered 1st Place in Flight One, Mary Alice Harfoush in Flight Two, Dinah Knobloch in Flight Three and Mary Mizell in Flight Four.

24 gals who "Beat the Pro"

Closest-to-the-Pin honors were taken by: Judy Tauzin (Flight 1), Toni Rossol (Flight 2), Beryl Laird (Flight 3) and Kim Knight (Flight 4). The following had Chip-ins: Liz Bell on #4, Margaret Sherwood on #8, and Dinah Knobloch on #7. Great golfing gals!!

Tuesday, October 18th, was to be our "All Par 3s" competition; however, mother nature had other plans and only a couple of brave souls turned out to play. So, there were not enough players to have a proper competition.

On the 25th we scheduled our "Beat the Pro" competition. Heath Ne-cause went out to play the front nine of the Cardinal Course. His gross score is posted and then 26 of our gals tried to beat that number using their Net Scores. What a day! 24 gals Beat the Pro gaining a "I beat the Pro" pin. Me thinks, Heath was going easy on our group. But then again maybe our gals are getting better each year. No one scored a Chip-In but two gals had Birdies: Pauline Singer (hole #4) and Toni Rossol (hole #7).

Until next month as we look forward to cooler weather and more opportunities to hit that little white ball into the very small hole. Keep hitting them long and straight. And, remember that old saying, "drive for show and putt for dough!"

Shore Thing: Outdoors for the Holidays

Shore Thing Fishing Report

By Cpt. Sonny Schindler

The wonderful Mississippi Gulf Coast is an amazing place to spend the holidays. Of course, you never know what the weather is going to be. Some years we are in shorts and flip-flops for Christmas, and once every blue moon it snows.

One thing we always look forward to is our holiday charter bookings.

We have had some of the same groups fishing with us during Thanksgiving and Christmas for many years now. One of the new trends, that I think is very cool, is taking the fish you catch and serving it for the holidays. We have had several people stockpiling Trout, sheepshead, puppy drum, and redfish. They are getting ready to serve their fish for friends and family coming down to enjoy holidays, here in south Mississippi.

Another fun thing to do with family and friends is taking your catch to the local restaurants this time of year. My wife and I always have a crowd in town for both Thanksgiving and Christmas, on mine and mine and her side of the family. We usually take a day, and fish in the morning. We then corral everyone towards either Shaggy's in the Pass Christian Harbor, or The Blind Tiger in downtown Bay Saint Louis. Both restaurants will prepare your freshly caught/cleaned fish!!!

Speaking from experience, this is about the freshest and most deliciously prepared fish you'll ever have. This is a great activity for my younger nieces and nephews. Between the fishing, the lunch and usually a stop somewhere for dessert, it can take up the better part of a day.

This helps other family members, if they need time for last minute gift shopping, meal prep or just resting. Also it gets folks outdoors, and enjoying our wonderful area.

Hopefully you and your family are able to get outside during the coming holidays. We wish each and everyone of you a very safe and enjoyable time with those special people we call family and friends.

Happy Holidays!!!

ed the city to cancel it. However, Reso said, due to popular demand, the city decided to reschedule it for Dec. 9, beginning at 6 p.m.

The parade will start at the Bay St. Louis Harbor, roll up Court Street to Second, turn right and head to deMontluzin, then back down to Beach Boulevard and over to Main Street, where it will end at the Hancock County courthouse to showcase the illumination of the 2022 Christmas tree. A choir will perform on the steps of the courthouse after the parade.

Then it's Diamondhead's turn again.

Keeping Waveland Beautiful

Photo submitted
Waveland's Whispering Pines Community is adding to the beautification of Waveland. Under the guidance of Claire and Joe Bennett the Angel Garden has come to life. Claire has personally worked with gardeners to assure not only what you see looks pretty, but also that everything underground has been properly tended to. Neighbors on Whispering Pines donated to make it a reality. We all look forward to Spring when more colorful flowers may be added.
